PROCEEDINGS

THE 5th

INTERNATIONAL

SEMINAR 2011

SAFYA WACANA CHRISTIAN UNIVERSITY

The Faculty of Language & Literature in cooperation with the Language Training Center

Teacher Education in the Era of World Englishes

Salatiga, November 21-22, 2011
ISBN: 978-979-1098-67-4

Widya Sari Press Salatiga
PROCEEDINGS

THE 5th
INTERNATIONAL SEMINAR 2011
SATYA WACANA CHRISTIAN UNIVERSITY
The Faculty of Language & Literature in cooperation with the Language Training Center

Teacher Education in the Era of World Englishes

Salatiga, November 21-22, 2011
ISBN: 978-979-1098-67-4

Widya Sari Press
TABLE OF CONTENTS

PREFACE

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Indonesian English Lectures on English and Identity: A Study of Yogyakarta – Indonesia
Anita Dewi & Ririn Trisnawati

English, Islam, and Secular Values: A Hybrid Curricular Approach to Pre-service
English Teacher Education in the Era of World Englishes?
Abdul Hadi

English-speaking Countries’ Literature and Prospective Teachers’ Perceived Social Status
Lany Kristono

Student’s Perceptions of Native Speaker and Non-Native Speaker Teachers:
Implication for Teacher Education
Rahmila Murtiana

Using Pantuns in Greetings as a Tool to Promote Autonomous Learning and the Use of Metacognitive Strategies in ESL Classroom
Nur Huslinda, Dato’Che Mat, Pauziah Mat Hassan, & Nor Sukor Ali

English Teaching in PKBM Satya Parahita: Insights for Teacher Education Program
Anita Kurniawati

The Imagined Communities of First-Year English Department Students
Gisela Kusumawardani, Rachma Puspita W, Siska Hartrina N, & Febi Kusuma Dewi

Bilingual teachers in the United States: The Preparation and the Recruitment
Antonius Wahyana

The English Department Students’ Reasons of Choosing the Native Teacher in Cross Cultural Understanding (CCLI) Course
Maulida Ambarwati, Mila Riyani, Muchammad Rafsanjani Saputra, & Rhany Dhewani Cahyalita

ED students’ Perceptions Toward Bilingual Education in Indonesia in Academic Reading Class
Hana Rhemawati, Praditha Dyah Ayu, & Widhi Hapsari
The English Department CCU Students’ Perceptions toward the Term of Best English
Candradaewi Wahyu Anggraeni, Christianti Tri Hapsari, Kharisma Mutiara, & Wieke Nur Shanti

104

One Teacher Struggles to Integrate EIL Approaches in A Microteaching Class: An Action Research Project
Nugrahenny T. Zacharias

113

English and Me: The Fact of Learning English in Constructing Learners’ Identity
Yohanes Wibowo, Jessica Landum, Indreswari Pinandita, & Sherly Phan

125

Teachers’ Beliefs about Teaching English to Adult Learners Studying in Language Courses
Flora Debora Floris

136

Using Critical Pedagogy to Criticize Methods of TEFL
Achmad Hilal Madjdi

151

Professional Development Programs: A Burden for the Teachers?
C.M.T. Fanny Novita Atmadjaja

155

The Influence of Imagined Communities Toward English Department Students’ Language Learning
Deilly Ismet Perkasa, Jumiarsih, Budi Meilistyono, & Bravicky F.L

165

Teachers’ Social Pedagogical Knowledge Acquisition in a Workplace: A Knowledge Management Perspective
Anne I. Timotius

181

Prototypical Feature Discovery: A Method for Teaching Scientific Reading
Krismiyati

194

Children Books As A Means to Bridge Local Culture and Language Learning: A Project Report
Annta

205

Individual Learner Differences and Second Language Acquisition: A Progressive Study on Academic Writing Students
Listyani

210

Corpus-Informed Materials in Second Language Writing: Implications for the Classroom
Zeping Huang

223
Using BALL to Develop Writing Skills: Students’ Interest and Perception
Parindungan Pardede

A Self Study of Socialization into English Language Teaching and Research
Kristjan Bondesson

Multicultural Literature for A Peace-Based Prose Class for English Teacher Education
Purwanti Kusumaningtyas

What Do the Students Learn in Their Micro Teaching Class?: A Study on The Students’ Teaching Reflection Journals
Victoria Usadya Palupi

Character Building through Poems: An Interactive Approach in Teaching Poetry
Deta Maria Sri Darta & Suzana Maria L.A.F.

Envisioning World Englishes in an Educational Institution
Christian Rudianto
The theme of this year’s seminar “Teacher Education in the Era of World Englishes” is a long-awaited topic to address the current and growing status of English in the world. As one of the teacher education programs, the English Department in the Faculty of Language and Literature has been widely known as the providers of English teachers throughout the countries. With the status of English as an international language, significant questions need to be asked such as, among others, are: What kinds of English teachers should we cultivate? Who should be the models for these teachers? Who are the ideal English teachers?

To address these questions, this year theme is selected. The seminar is hoped to provide opportunities for students, teacher-practitioners as well as researchers to share their studies, knowledge, as well as practical applications on how teaching and training teachers in the era of World Englishes. Most importantly, it provides a platform to think of future directions of English language teaching, particularly in countries, traditionally categorized in Kachru’s Expanding Circle.

We would like to offer our appreciation to all invited speakers (Prof. Canagarajah, Dr. George Braine and Dr. Mario Saraceni), paper and workshop presenters, poster-presenter, and participants who have taken the time to attend the seminar. The seminar was made possible by our sponsors. In these hard economic times, we are all grateful for their financial support. Finally, the seminar would not have been realized without the support of various hard-working and dedicated committee members and English Department students.

This publication presents some of the unedited full papers of the presentations in the The 5th International Seminar, around the theme: “Teacher Education in the Era of World Englishes”. We hope that these papers will give significant contributions to issues surrounding the teaching of English in the era of World Englishes.

Salatiga,

Nugrahenny T. Zacharias, Ph.D.

Chair
What Do the Students Learn in Their Micro Teaching Class?: A Study on The Students’ Teaching Reflection Journals

Victoria Usadya Palupi
Satya Wacana Christian University
victoria.up@gmail.com

ABSTRACT

This paper starts from the idea of promoting reflective practices to students in an English language teaching program in a private university in Salatiga. This is in line with recent developments in teacher education which have led to a renewed interest in the reflective practices (Antonek, McCormick, and Donato, 1997; Pedro, 2005; Ottesen, 2007; Semerci, 2007; Cavanagh and Prescott, 2010). The data gathered from the participants’ teaching reflection was used to see how self reflection assists the them develop critical thinking on the issues raised in their Micro Teaching class, for example in the selection of certain ELT Methods, the use of L1, the use of feedback and questions. The data was also meant to give an account on the focus of the participants’ teaching reflections. The findings revealed that reflective practices contributed to the development of the participants’ language teaching skills. This paper concludes that involving student teachers in conducting self reflection is beneficial to help these future teachers become life-long learners.

Key words: teaching reflection, teacher preparation program