Abstract

This article deals with the worldview of Samin Community. How they perceive daily life and the relation with people out side the community. Samin community or Sedulur Sikep is different compared to other communities in Java. Their way of life is different, therefore for some other people the rebellion community is a sort of weird group. In short, today Indonesia government gives them an ample room to role over their own community as well as expressing their belief as well as value.
